

In-Class Exercise: Virtual Kitchen Timer

Using a local variable, create a virtual timer from a standard knob control as shown. The user will select a countdown value with the control, and then run the VI. As it runs, the same knob control will show actual time counting down in discrete seconds, then stop upon reaching zero.

